MB's;

Thanks for looking. We have had two days of (very little) snow so far. It was fun, on one of our walks, to find the deer hanging out with the ducks! And then, there's the coffee pic of the coffee shop that we took youse to.

Dick's final book, Alien Threat, is expected cover and all late January. All the little old ladies here are grabbing the first book, Heartfelt, off of the table that show cases authors here at MM for one week; Dick just finished his Dec. month but the little old ladies are still running up to him with such as "Ohhh I'm in the really good part. I can't wait to see what happens. . ." So far about 50 books have been taken off that table (Dick goes in morning and night to replace his books). No money; just appreciation.

Life is good,
patricia
